

Inclusive Play Programs

Providing inclusive play opportunities for people of all ages and abilities is critical for promoting play, healthy physical activity, and learning. PlayCore's unique inclusive play programs not only create outdoor environments that implement best practice design principles, they take inclusive play to the next level by providing outdoor programming to ensure meaningful play for children of all abilities!

7 Principles of Inclusive Playground Design

Me2SM and 2 Play TogetherSM provide best practices for creating meaningful inclusive play environments that:

- Move beyond accessibility
- Break down physical and social barriers
- Promote play for people of all abilities, age, race, gender, ethnicity, culture, and socio-economic status
- Create play environments that are usable by more people, to the greatest extent possible
- Address the developmental needs of the whole child by intentionally providing opportunities for physical, cognitive, communicative, social/emotional, and sensory development
- Support inclusive play by promoting character development to create awareness, break down barriers, and foster friendships

SM

Me2SM

Best practice guidelines for upgrading existing or designing new outdoor play environments:

- Considers the child's perspective
- Provides both physical & social inclusion
- Considers the whole child by addressing physical, sensory, social, cognitive, and communicative development
- Focuses on and celebrates the abilities and what people CAN do!

Program developed in partnership with:

2 Play TogetherSM

Tips and activities for programmers that promote inclusive play, understanding, and fun between children with and without disabilities:

- Based around common character education traits
- Playground activities for PreK-5th grades
- Disability Awareness Resources
- Fun Inclusive Play Tips

Program developed in partnership with:

